Unlimited experience and books

Once you get to NCR(New California Republic),go into the city. next go right one building and down unstill you see a female character and a robot just waiting outside of the building. 9 out of 10 times I ran past her she cries out for help. HELP HER! She brings you into the building that she was standing in front of. There will be a guy going to blow himself up, just let him blow up. Because of the explosion he damaged the regulator console for the power. Quickly repair it and talk to the lady she will give you some books and you get 3000 exp points. Now you just repair it again and talk to the lady again and she will give you more books and you get 3000 exp points for "repairing the console". keep doing this to get unlimited exp points and books. I tried this and I never regretted it.

Unlimited Money and Jet

In the Den, there is a thug named Joey. He will try to sell you the drug "Jet". Talk to him and he'll ask you for $500 a dose. When you first talk to him, have less than $500 in your inventory and say you'll buy it. He will say you don't have enough money and tell you not to buy it anywhere else. There will be an option that says "Wait, I'll buy it". Click on that and he'll say "You'll be coming back". Then say "Maybe". In your inventory, you will have the jet, without even paying for it. Here comes the best part! Go into his inventory by using the steal skill. He will have the $500 you were supposed to give him. You can then steal that money! You may do this as many times you wish for unlimited money and jet.
